(U) District of Columbia – US Preparing 19,000 Beds for Migrant Children in Case of Spike in Border Arrivals

(U) Washington – The US is preparing for a potential spike in migrant children crossing the southern border without their parents and has identified 19,000 beds at shelters and housing sites to prevent these minors from languishing in Border Patrol detention facilities, top Biden administration officials told national media. In interviews, Health and Human Services Secretary Xavier Becerra and Cindy Huang, the recently departed director of the Office of Refugee Resettlement, said officials are working to avoid repeating what occurred in 2021, when a shortage of shelter beds stranded thousands of migrant children in ill-suited Border Patrol and makeshift housing facilities.

(U) El Salvador – Country Arrests More Than 17,000 Suspected Gang Members in Emergency Measures

(U) San Salvador – More than an estimated 17,000 individuals have been arrested in El Salvador over the past month, all related to supposed connection to violent gangs. A nationwide state of emergency was called into place on 27 March after 62 gang-related murders were recorded within a 24-hour period. Media reported that this was the highest rate of violence in one 24-hour period in El Salvador since a civil war ended in 1992. As of 6 April, El Salvador's Congress passed a measure punishing anyone who shares information about gangs with a 10-to-15-year prison sentence. This has raised many concerns within El Salvador as well as the international community. Critics say that this sweeping measure will hinder freedom of speech as it also targets journalists trying to report on gangs.
